Freedom Centre International, London

Creative Freedom

Freedom Centre International's new Worship centre was developed from an old bingo hall in Welling, London which hadn't been used for over 20 years. It has been transformed into a modern and vibrant Church centre for large events and services for the Church congregation and for worldwide audiences online. CAVS began by installing an extensive cabling infrastructure for all present and future audio, video, lighting and networking requirements throughout the centre.

The latest Electrovoice EVA line array speaker system was specified to provide seamless sound from the front of the auditorium to the rear of the balcony – driven and controlled via a Netmax processor and remote monitored amplifiers to allow real-time temperature, impedance and performance checks within the Church or via remote access from Creative's office.

The visual system consists of dual long throw Eiki 7000 lumen projectors, multiple LCD and plasma relay screens and a Kramer switching scaler and Cat5e distribution hardware to provide high quality images from PC, cameras and video sources.

Audio and visual feeds are present in all locations around the centre – providing service and live links to offices, foyer, lobby and relay halls. Three 60" plasma screens are installed within the main auditorium to ensure the front rows of seating and service leaders/musicians on the platform can view words and pictures at all times. A 16 lantern DMX-controlled lighting system was also designed by Creative Audio-Visual Solutions to allow a wide variety of 'on-stage' moods to support Worship - ensuring an effective focus to the platform for musicians, choir and service leaders.
