CREATIVE at work

Selly Oak Methodist Church, Birmingham

Audio & Visual Excellence

The audio and audio-visual system installed within Selly Oak Methodist Church demonstrates how cutting edge sound and visual technology can be married effectively with operational simplicity and maintenance. This benefits the different levels of users within this busy Methodist Church. Through utilising high quality components such as JBL speakers, QSC amplification, Eiki Projection and Kramer AV control hardware, the Selly Oak Methodist Church system cuts no corners in providing the best audio and audio-visual quality to their expanding congregation.

The custom motorised 3m tab tensioned projection screen offers exceptional viewing quality and a guaranteed taut fabric surface for many years of effective presentation.

Creative Audio-Visual Solutions is one of the only Church technology suppliers to provide the complete solution, ensuring the Church is confident that all equipment works harmoniously together as well as being supported by one company when it comes to back-up, support and training. To enable smooth presentations, CDS Ltd recommends ASUS AV laptops along with Songpro song management and Microsoft Powerpoint software*. This is fully optimised upon completion of the installation to ensure that all hardware and software works effectively, with training to cover all aspects of the system. It is common for organisations to source equipment from different suppliers in order to capitalise on cost savings – with Creative, your Church can be assured of competitive pricing along with the piece-of-mind that a single supplier brings.

Creative is a Microsoft Partner*

A self contained secure rack houses all equipment so that the system is ready for operation quickly and efficiently.

An Eiki 5000 Lumens XGA projector utilising a Unicol girder mount and suspended from the ceiling beam provides clear PC and video images. CDS supply and install the complete range of Eiki LCD and DLP projectors exclusively – with a 5 year warranty you can see why!

For the audio system, two pairs of ceiling mounted JBL Control Contractor 29AV speakers were commissioned for clear and intelligible speech and live Worship reproduction. They were carefully directed to the central area of the congregation to provide excellent auditory focus whilst eradicating any feedback issues. A Behringer Ultracurve Pro digital graphic equaliser further improved the audio quality to ensure that the sound system could operate at sufficient volume without unwanted audio artefacts. A Soundcraft Spirit 12-channel mixer was ideal in providing good sound quality without making the system unnecessarily complex to use. As in most Churches, there are a number of operators at different levels of competence. It is vital to ensure any system can not only sound good but be used effectively by all.

Creative not only have a passion for Church installations, they also take personable care over every part of the system. Future compatibility and Church growth govern how each system is designed and each component is selected. With trends moving into advanced control systems, HD, digital etc. within both AV and audio industries, you can be assured that Creative understands and is experienced in all these technologies.

Procon AV and Kelsey audio connectivity. Inputs for musicians, laptop and video camera (S-Video).

In the foyer and relay halls, additional JBL Control 25T speakers were installed with local switches for volume and on/off control.

As with many of our customers, Churches also have one eye on future technology development. At Selly Oak MC, with the installation of remote cameras and advanced AV hardware, their desire to stream services abroad and continually develop communication is realised with CDS's help.
