CREATIVE at work

St Andrew's Church, Crawley

New Building Project

St Andrews Crawley was CAVS's major new building project of 2010 featuring complete audio and visual systems throughout the main Church and auxiliary halls and rooms. The main Worship space features dual 7000 lumen Eiki projectors driven via a flexible matrix routing system allowing any image from laptops, main PC, remote cameras and video devices to be shown on any display within the building. An Electrovoice sound system featuring two ZX5 flown clusters and 18" TourX subwoofers provide concert quality sound for live and recorded Worship via EV digital processing and amplification. Multiple touch panel controllers eradicate the need for remote controls to be used for switching on and operating most of the equipment (including projectors and main amp rack) with dedicated one-touch buttons for user defined mixer and projection settings – allowing the system to be used during smaller services when no main operators are present.

Console visual control equipment for monitoring all inputs sources and selecting images for routing to projectors and displays

Creche AV – one of the many rooms with dedicated audio and visual systems, for both service feeds and independent sources

The Yamaha LS9 digital mixing console with 32 inputs, 15 flexible main/aux outputs, full EQ, processing and memory settings to allow flexibility for all types of service and Worship group size. Recording is to CD/DVD and via on-board USB connection

One of the touch panel controllers to remove the need for unreliable remote controls as well as providing one-touch settings for audio and visual settings
